The smaller they are, the bigger their dreams

As Peter Pan knows only too well, you're never too young to start dreaming (or too old!) So for dreamers of every age and stage, we make sure there's plenty of magic of every shape and size.

There's a whole kingdom full of stuff for the family to do together, as well as magic especially for tots, teens and grown-ups (Hey, they earned it!)

- Family fun
Stuff the whole family can do together.
- Kids zone
Plenty of magical experiences for children of all ages.
- Teen things
Cool stuff and hot rides!
- Just for grown ups
The biggest kids of all.

Their dreams can't wait...

Dream a little dream

All children dream, and the golden age when children believe they can actually touch their dreams is between the ages of 3 and 5. Everything is wonderously new and magically real. Watch those young faces light up as they discover the attractions that suit them best, like Dumbo the Flying Elephant. Catch their amazement as they meet 'real' Disney Characters for the first time!

So don't wait; let their imagination run free - and yours too! Treat all the family to a magical break at Disneyland® Resort Paris! There's fun and relaxation for all. And for added peace of mind there are child friendly amenities and services including kids' playgrounds, kids' menus, pushchair rental - and lots more besides. It's the little things that count, after all!

Celebrate your special day, any day!

Disney for a day? Holiday, Birthday, Mother's Day, Father's Day, Grandparents Day. Any day is a good day to celebrate at Disneyland® Resort Paris.

Family stuff: Feel like sharing a dream and hanging out together? You've come to the right place.

Have a Yo ho, ho and a barrel of fun at Pirates of the Caribbean and some high 'spirited' laughs at Phantom Manor. And with world-class Disney entertainment, like The Legend of The Lion King show and spectacular parades with Disney Characters - what better way to share the magic and the dream!

Teen things: Too big for kids' stuff? No worries. This place is packed with enough adrenalin-fuelled rides like Space Mountain: Mission 2 - to keep you buzzing all day long. Then kick back and chill. Catch a movie, see live night-time shows, or just hang out.

Just for grown ups: When was the last time you pampered yourself - can't remember that far back? Well, be prepared to be spoiled because Disney has all sorts of magical delights reserved just for grown-ups. Feeling sporty? How about a round of golf followed by a round of drinks? Or a smashing game of tennis? Feeling indulgent? Relax with a soothing sauna.

Two Disney® Parks, one endless dream

Imagine exploring 2 magical Disney® Parks in one - Disneyland® Park with its 5 enchanting Lands and right next door - Walt Disney Studios® Park where you can discover the behind-the-scenes secrets and special effects of cinema, TV and Disney animation. A dream come true for any holiday or celebration. Birthday, Anniversary, Christmas. Any excuse will do!

- Disneyland® Park
- Walt Disney Studios® Park

EXTREME
DREAMERS

This is a place where your dreams take centre stage. It's Disney's behind-the-scenes destination sensation. And it's packed with plenty of ways to play. Explosive car chases. Disaster movie sets that come to life. A high-speed Rock 'n' Roller coaster ride , accelerating from 0-60 mph in 3 seconds. And that's just for starters.

Next up: a face-off with meteorites (umbrellas aren't going to help you for these kind of showers). Backstage studio tours. Or how about an all-singing, all-dancing live stage show starring Donald Duck and friends?

Whatever your script, your role in action attractions is guaranteed. Walt Disney Studios® Park: after all, this is where showbiz is.

W

elcome to Walt Disney Studios® Park

What's it all about?

- ✔ Starry-eyed amazement, meeting the latest Disney Stars (it's the "who's who" of toon town!)
- ✔ White-knuckle adrenalin rushes
- ✔ Ducking and avoiding a barrage of special effects that have a habit of becoming real
- ✔ Getting ready for your "close-up" (you never know who might "discover" you)

General Conditions

Excerpt of French Decree n°94-490 of June 15, 1994 implementing article 31 of French Law n°92-645 of July 13, 1992 on package travel and package holidays.

Art. 95. – Subject to the exclusions specified in subsections 2a and 2b of the aforementioned article 14 of the French Act of July 13, 1992, appropriate documents shall be supplied, in compliance with the rules defined hereinafter, for any offer or sale of services concerning travel arrangements or stays.

In the event of sale of airline tickets or tickets on regular airlines without the provision of services connected with such transport, the seller shall provide the buyer with one or more airline tickets for the entire journey with the tickets being issued by the carrier or under the latter's responsibility. In the event of customised transport, the name and address of the carrier for whom the tickets are issued must be stated.

Separate invoicing of the various constituents of one and the same travel package does not relieve the seller of his/her obligations prescribed herein.

Art. 96. – Prior to the signature of the contract, in the form of a written document stating the seller's corporate name, address, and administrative permit to transact, the seller shall supply the consumer with information on prices, dates and other items pertaining to the services afforded for the trip or stay, such as:

8. The amount or percentage of the price to be paid down as a first instalment upon signature of the contract, as well as the timetable for payment of the remaining balance;
9. Terms and conditions of price revisions as provided for by the contract in application of article 100 of this decree;
10. Contractual terms and conditions governing cancellation;
11. Terms and conditions of cancellation as defined in articles 101, 102, and 103 hereinafter;
12. Details concerning risks covered and the amount of coverage taken out in the insurance policy covering the consequences of professional liability incurred by travel agencies as well as civil liability for non-profit making associations, organisations, and local tourism bodies;
13. Information concerning optional subscription to an insurance policy covering the consequences of certain cases of cancellation, or subscription to an insurance policy covering certain special risks and especially repatriation expenses in the event of accident or sickness;

Art. 97. – Preliminary information supplied to the consumer shall be binding upon the seller unless the seller expressly reserves the right to make certain changes. In this case, the seller shall clearly indicate to what extent such changes may be made and in what areas.

Under all circumstances, changes made to preliminary information must be communicated to the consumer in writing before the contract is signed.

Art. 98. – The contract signed between the seller and the buyer must be in written form, drawn up in two original copies with one copy delivered to the buyer, and must bear the signature of both parties. The contract must also contain the following clauses:

1. The name and address of the seller and of the seller's guarantor and insurer, as well as the organiser's name and address;
2. The destination(s) of travel and, in the event of stays at various intervals, the different periods and dates of stay;

9. Information on any taxes or duties bearing on certain services such as landing, boarding or disembarkation taxes in ports and airports as well as visitor tax if not included in the price of the service(s) provided;
10. Timetable and terms of payment of the price; under no circumstance may the final payment made by the buyer be less than 30 percent of the price of travel or stay; final payment must be made upon delivery of documents enabling the travel or stay;
11. Special terms and conditions requested by the buyer and accepted by the seller;
12. Buyer's means of recourse against the seller in the event of claims of non performance of the agreement or misfeasance; claims must be addressed to the seller forthwith, by registered letter with acknowledgement of receipt, and, where appropriate, must be notified in writing to the travel organiser and the service provider concerned.
13. The deadline for the seller to inform the buyer of the cancellation of travel or stay if the organisation thereof is contingent on the existence of a minimum number of participants, in accordance with the provisions laid down in Article 96.7 herein above;

15. Terms and conditions prescribed below under articles 101, 102, and 103;
16. Details concerning risks covered and the amount of coverage taken out in the insurance policy covering the consequences of seller's professional liability;
17. Information concerning seller's subscription to an insurance policy (policy number and name of insurer) covering the consequences of certain cases of cancellation, as well as information concerning the insurance policy covering certain special risks and especially repatriation expenses in the event of accident or sickness; the seller shall in this case provide the buyer with a document that shall at least stipulate risk coverage and exclusions.

18. Deadline for informing the seller should the buyer decide to assign the contract;

19. The seller's commitment to supply the following information at least ten (10) days before the scheduled date of departure:

- a) Name, address and telephone number of the seller's local agent, or the name, address and telephone number of local bodies that may assist the consumer in case of difficulty, or otherwise the call number for contacting the seller in case of emergency;
- b) For minors travelling and staying abroad, a telephone number and an address for directly contacting the child or the person responsible for the child at the place of stay.

Art. 99. – The buyer may transfer his/her contract to an assignee fulfilling the same requirements as the buyer with respect to the travel arrangements or stay, provided that the contract has not yet taken effect.

Unless stipulations are more favourable for the assignee, the latter is required to inform the seller of his/her decision by registered letter with acknowledgement of receipt at least seven (7) days before commencement of travel. This deadline shall be extended to fifteen (15) days in the case of cruises.

Under no circumstances shall the transfer call for authorisation from the seller.

Art. 100. – Should the contract expressly specify the possibility of a price revision within the limits prescribed in article 19 of the aforementioned Act of July 13, 1992, the contract shall indicate the exact method of calculation for prices revised upwards or downwards, and especially the amount of transportation expenses and related taxes, the currency(ies) liable to affect the price of travel or stay, the portion of the price that is subject to this change, and the rate of the currency(ies) used as a benchmark for drawing up the price stated in the contract.

Art. 101. – In cases where, prior to the buyer's departure, the seller is obliged to alter any of the essential constituents of the contract, such as a significant price increase, the buyer may take the following steps, notwithstanding any claims for compensation of any damages sustained and after having notified the seller of these steps by registered mail with acknowledgement of receipt:

- either rescind the contract and obtain, without any penalty, immediate repayment of amounts paid; or
- agree to the change or replacement trip proposed by the seller, in which case the parties shall sign a supplementary agreement stipulating the changes made; any price decrease is to be deducted from any outstanding payments to be made by the buyer and, if the payments already made exceed the price of the new services, amounts paid in excess shall be refunded to the buyer before the date of departure;

Art. 102. – In the case provided for under article 21 of the aforementioned Act of July 13, 1992, should the seller cancel the trip or stay prior to the buyer's departure, the seller shall inform the buyer thereof by registered mail with acknowledgement of receipt. The seller shall then immediately refund the buyer for all amounts paid, with no penalties, and notwithstanding any claims for compensation of damages that may have been sustained. In this event, the buyer shall receive an indemnity that shall be at least equal to the penalty that would have been payable by the buyer if the buyer had instigated the cancellation at that date.

General Conditions

The provisions laid down in this article 102 do not in any manner prevent friendly settlements wherein the buyer agrees to a replacement trip or stay proposed by the seller.

Art. 103. – In the event that, after the buyer's departure, the seller is unable to supply a preponderant portion of the services stipulated in the contract and representing a significant percentage of the price honoured by the buyer, the seller must immediately take the following steps without prejudice to any claims for compensation of damages that may have been sustained:

- either propose replacement services for the services to be provided initially, with all additional costs being borne by the seller; if the services accepted by the buyer are of lower quality, the seller shall then be obliged to refund the buyer for the difference in price upon buyer's return; or
- if the seller is unable to propose any replacement services or if such replacements are rejected by the buyer for good reasons, the seller shall at no extra cost provide the buyer with transportation tickets enabling the buyer to return, under conditions that are deemed equivalent, to the place of departure or to any other location agreed upon between the two parties.
